

Footage Update from StormStock

February 19, 2015

Big, mean, nasty storms from StormStock

StormStock has added new footage captured by cinematographer Martin Lisius and his team of weather-battered shooters. The material includes big, mean, nasty storms - suitable for VFX plates for theatrical features and TV commercials or documentaries and other programs about global warming, climate, and natural history. In addition, there are new hurricanes, typhoons and blizzards – all shot on HD or Red 4K.

To view the new footage, visit www.stormstock.com and search by topic or keyword. Previews and clean masters can be downloaded from the web site 24/7, or contact Martin or Kim at info@stormstock.com for personal service.
