

Screenocean adds The Video Pool iconic collection into the mix.

LONDON – 22.03.2018 – Screenocean adds another dimension to its eclectic footage archive by incorporating The Video Pool collection into the mix.

The Video Pool is an extensive assortment of access-only music videos, spanning more than 30 years, from 80s pop to 90s hip-hop and much more. This collection contains classic hits as well as some lesser-known gems.

Roz Bea and Sharon Hood, founders of The Video Pool, say, “We are very excited to announce that The Video Pool archive, over a quarter of a century’s collection of pristine original music videos from Abba to ZZ Top and everything in between, is now digitally available from Screenocean”.

Duncan Roxburgh, Assistant Licensing Manager for Screenocean, says, “We’re delighted to be adding this valuable collection to our archive. It brings together some of the most iconic Music Videos of the past few decades that will add colour to hundreds of productions and bolsters our already impressive music related library.”
