

Clips & Footage are delighted to announce the rep of Greenpark Films.

Greenpark Films, a unique and extensive collection of documentaries covering British Social History throughout the 1940 to the 1970s. Family, life in the home, domestic appliances, leisure, shopping and consumer activities are all covered along with quirky industrial, agricultural and healthcare films mostly in full colour and unusually high quality, giving a real sense of life as it was lived in pre 1980s Britain. This rich and varied archive includes films documenting the development of the Gulf states from 1950s and a fabulous collection of full colour commercials. All films have high production values and film backing. For further details contact Clips & Footage at info@clips&footage.com
